There has been a rash of news stories lately about how some of these judges, especially the federal types, have been givin' convicted people "harsh" treatment in the form of very heavy fines, as well as prison sentences or probation sentences of somewhat more length. While these judges are takin' bows for their interest in givin' scot-laws a raspberry with a knuckle in it, these same courts are reported fallin' to follow through and collect th' money.

Texas Market News Changes Announced

The following announcement by the Texas Department of Agriculture this week covers changes in means of getting market news through a new "800" telephone line and termination of the free service on the "Texas Market News" bulletin. In the future those receiving this pamphlet will have to subscribe at $10 per year. The announcement follows:

Important Notice: Texas Livestock Market News has been published and mailed free of charge. Due to Texas Legislative appropriations reduction, it is necessary that a subscription fee be charged to pay for the costs of publishing and mailing this report. The last free issue of this publication will be mailed Saturday, Oct. 1, 1983.

The Market News Service is pleased to announce that an improved market news dissemination system will be operational about October 1, 1983. Three in-coming WATS lines (800 telephone numbers) will be utilized in the new system. One line will be specifically designated for Livestock Market News reports and information. One line will be used for Grain Market News reports and information, and one line will be manned by market news personnel for Poultry, Egg, Fruit, and

U.S. Efforts to Reduce Excess Farm Products Thwarted by Gains in Other Countries, Trade Carriers

Secy. of Agriculture John Block returned from a Central and South American tour recently. Countries visited included Argentina, Brazil, Venezuela, Guatemala and El Salvador. The only beef cattle representative on the trip was James Grote, manager of the Granite Hills Ranch, Llano, Texas. Block made several talks while visiting those countries the principal ones being Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro to the American Chambers of Commerce in those nations.

The thrust of his messages at all of these countries was world agricultural trade and present problems and problems of the future. Portions of the statements included these. Block stressed the need for joint efforts to enhance world exports.

At Buenos Aires he said:

"Our farm systems are linked in many significant respects. Both countries have similar climates and soils in many regions, which makes it profitable for us to team up on cooperative research in science and technology."

"We have market-oriented agricultural systems - and our farmers are geared to selling in world markets."

"And even when, as exporters of grains and oilseeds, we find ourselves in direct competition for the same customers, we also are linked in our common need for an international marketing system that promotes stable and sustainable long-term growth."

"Right now, world markets are in somewhat of a disarray - a result of over-production of many commodities and trade practices that are restricting or distorting the flows of trade."

"Last year, world farmers harvested crops of grains, oilseeds, and cotton outside the United States are expected to increase once again in 1983/84 to new record highs. As a consequence, world supply and demand is going to continue out of balance for another year."

"Trade policy problems are another area of great concern to the U.S. agricultural sector. Hardly a week goes by when we aren't involved in discussion in some part of the world on some agricultural commodity. And recent months have seen some substantial progress."

At Rio de Janeiro among Block's statements were these:

"Brazil is one of the United States' most significant markets for wheat and, in turn, is our principal supplier of agricultural imports. It also is one of our stiffest competitors in the international marketplace."

"This marketplace is under great strain right now from the severe imbalance in the supply of and demand for agricultural products."

"During the last crop season, the world's farmers harvested record crops of grains, oilseeds, and cotton. Unfortunately, even as production was climbing, demand was falling off. The global recession, the heavy debt loads of many prospective importers, and an increase in protectionist trade policies resulted in little, if any, growth in world trade - in marked contrast to the rapid gains of the 1970's."

"As a consequence, world stocks of many agricultural commodities have mounted to serious levels and prices are lower. In some countries, the pressure to dispose of surpluses has led to heavy export subsidies. This puts a serious strain on national treasuries - as well as on the relationships between nations competing for markets."

"And the economists who work for me in the U.S. Department of Agriculture say we can't expect much improvement in the upcoming marketing year. World demand for agricultural products in 1983/84 is expected to continue stagnate or decline. However, only the United States has made any effort to cut back output so as to move the world's agricultural economy toward the balance necessary for orderly trade."

"This crop year, we have established a U.S. government farm program known as PIR that pays farmers with stockpiled commodities for cutting back on plantings. Through PIR, the United States is reducing its prospective output of grains by 22 percent, oilseeds by 14 percent, and cotton by 5 percent."

"This represents a tremendous - and successful - effort on the part of the U.S. government and U.S. farmers to do their part to move the world agricultural economy toward the balance necessary for orderly trade."

"But our efforts are being offset by production increases elsewhere. Output of grains, oilseeds, and cotton outside the United States is expected to increase once again in 1983/84 to new record highs. As a consequence, world supply and demand is going to continue out of balance for another year."

"Trade policy problems are another area of great concern to the U.S. agricultural sector. Hardly a week goes by when we aren't involved in discussion in some part of the world on some agricultural commodity. And recent months have seen some substantial progress."

In some countries, the pressure to dispose of surpluses has led to heavy export subsidies. This puts a serious strain on national treasuries - and the relationships between nations competing for markets."

marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"This will make the total milk deduction $1 per hundredweight," he said. The President vetoed a delay to Oct. 1 a delay that both Houses of Congress had approved and sent to the President prior to their August recess, the economist explains.

Schwartz says the U.S. Department of Agriculture is using the milk deduction to help finance the dairy support program. The administration also has the $1 per hundredweight cut in producer checks will encourage a slowdown in national milk production, he says.

"Any producer who reduces milk production from his base by 8.4 percent will be eligible for a refund of 50 cents per hundredweight. The base is a five year average of milk production beginning Oct. 1, 1980 and ending Sept. 1, 1982. Each county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office has details about the base," he says.

The July 1983 report of U.S. milk production, which was released in August, shows a 4 percent increase in milk production from two years ago. In order to get a 50 cents per hundredweight rebate, milk producers nationally will have to cut current production by about 11 percent to comply with the percent reduction below base, the economist adds.

Simmental National Sale Set For 1984

Bosman, Mt. For the first time since 1976, the American Simmental Association will again designate and conduct a National Sale. The event is scheduled for January 19, 1984 and will be held in conjunction with National Western activities in Denver, Colorado.

Transcon Livestock Services, Inc. has been selected as the sale management firm. "The Board of Trustees has decided to reinstitute The National Sale, and has chosen the Denver National Western as the site," said Earl B. Peterson, Executive Vice President. "The Colorado Simmental Association has agreed to relinquish their National Trendsetter Sale held each year at the National Western, in favor of The National and we appreciate their willingness to cooperate in this manner."

Peterson pointed out that preliminary plans call for 80 head of purebred Simmental and Simbrah, including both bulls and females, to be consigned. All cattle nominated will be appraised and selected on the farm in order to meet rigid quality standards.

All animals in the sale will be blood typed and their parentage verified prior to the date of sale. Full performance data, including estimated breeding values, will be published on all cattle.

"We are expecting that breeders will consign their very best animals to this event," Peterson said. "Emphasis will be placed upon known parentage, predictable genetics and carefully selected individuals for what should be the top quality Simmental-Simbrah sale attraction of the year."

LPC Enters Donor, Recipient Management

Castroville, Texas — Embryo transfer has taken the purebred cattle industry by storm over the past few years, and will play a much larger role in the future.

There is probably no greater concentration of those involved in embryo transfer work in the nation than in the Medina Valley surrounding the South Texas town of Castroville.

Recognizing this, the Livestock Performance Center (LPC), noted for its bull performance testing and marketing, has entered into a new area — a donor and recipient management program.

LPC Manager Homer Higdon said he went into this program by accident. He said that Ken Peryn, owner of Medina Valley A.I. Lab, and Harley Snyder, Ph.D., called and asked him if the LPC could manage some recipient cows.

"They sent us 184 recipient cows and we were just going to board them," Higdon said. "Next thing I knew they were putting embryos in them."

Higdon said that the LPC is the ideal place for anyone wanting to keep recipient cows. One reason is that the cost of feeding and caring for the cows at a facility such as theirs is much cheaper than a breeder trying to keep a herd of recipient cows at the ranch. Another reason is because the LPC is centrally located to many veterinarians who do this type of work, so travel costs are kept to a minimum.

The LPC also has facilities for the actual transplanting. "We are very flexible," Higdon said. "We have the facilities to work the cattle here and we are going to build another."

The LPC has a capacity for 600 cows, and will sell recipient cows. Another project the LPC is working on is an artificial insemination management program. In this A.I. program the LPC will take the cattle in, feed, manage, ride twice a day, and then do the A.I. work for the breeder.

This program will work well with the donor and recipient program for much the same reason — the end result is that you want the cows to breed as soon as possible.

"We can feed them right, get them in shape, and get them cycling so we can get them bred," Higdon said. "We can manage an A.I. program better here."

For more information on either of the new programs, or for performance testing bulls, contact Homer Higdon at the Livestock Performance Center, P.O. Box 520, Castroville, Tex. 78009, phone 512/677-8820 (office) or 512/667-8802.

Phillips Petroleum Recipient Of First AQHA Honorary Membership

Phillips Petroleum Company of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, a long-time sponsor of the American Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show, has become the first recipient of an American Quarter Horse Association Honorary Membership Award. Presentation of the honor came at the AQHA 1983 World Championship Show in Tulsa, Oklahoma on August 6.

AQHA President Jack Anderson of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma presented Phillips Petroleum representative Don Brurud the framed certificate certifying the company an honorary lifetime member of the Association.

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to present the very first AQHA Honorary Membership to a company which has been associated with the show (AQHA Championship Show) since the beginning in Amarillo in 1972," Anderson said.

He added Phillips Petroleum's years as a class sponsor has enabled the show to continue in its successful mode. More than $30,000 has been donated to the show through the company's sponsorship.

Phillips Petroleum has sponsored the show during the past 18 years. Funding from these sponsorships goes toward purchasing expensive awards presented to class winners and assisting with ever-rising show management costs.

AQHA Honorary Memberships will be awarded to individuals or companies who have contributed in special ways to the growth and prosperity of the Quarter Horse industry and the AQHA. Recipients of the awards are selected each year at the Association's annual convention.

Farm Surpluses

balance poses a serious threat to the stability of the international marketplace - which is of vital concern to large agricultural exporters such as our two nations.

"Farmers in the United States and Brazil both are geared to produce for the export market - and when the export market is weak or unstable, both our farm economies suffer. Our economic health rests on developing international trade policies that will encourage long-term, stable and sustainable growth in agricultural trade. We must implement these policies soon. Why the need for hurry?"

"Two days ago, I visited the Cerrados - that huge area here in Brazil whose agricultural potential may someday make this country the world's second largest agricultural producer next to the United States. It could even put Brazil in the top spot for animal products."

"While in the Cerrados, I visited the agricultural research center there and was briefed on the work being done to unleash the area's potential. I was extremely impressed - and I hope that someday soon the U.S. will become partners in some of this research through a scientific and technical exchange program.

"But I have to admit the visit also left me worried. "World markets are already being swamped by overproduction, and everywhere I go, all the research I see, suggests the world is on the verge of technological breakthroughs that will push agricultural output up more than anything yet seen."

"During my recent visit I signed the final amendment to the fiscal 1983 P.L. 480 Title I agreement with El Salvador. This will add financing for the purchase of $1.8 million worth of corn, and brings the total year's program level to $39 million," said Block.

"In addition, I announced that for fiscal 1984, $32 million has been allocated under the P.L. 480 Title I program for El Salvador, providing financing for the purchase of wheat and wheat flour, vegetable oil and rice."

"We also are extending $25 million in fiscal 1984 GSM-102 credit guarantees for imports of U.S. protein meals, oilseeds, wheat powder, meat and bone meal, corn gluten meal, tallow and poultry breeding stock," Block said.

"The United States and Guatemala have a long history of excellent relations, particularly in agricultural trade," Block said on arrival. "We intend to strengthen these ties. For fiscal 1984, $50 million in credit guarantees to Guatemala have been approved under our Commodity Credit Corporation GSM-102 program for imports of vegetable oil, wheat, tallow, oilseeds and soybean meal, breeding chicks, planting seeds and meat and bone meal."

"We also have allocated $7 million in Title I Public Law 480 funds for use by Guatemala in the purchase of vegetable oil," said Block.

Lone Star Has Champion Female At Billings Hereford Show

The Yellowstone Exhibition, Billings, officially opened the 1983-84 Hereford Register of Merit show season. ROM competition was extremely strong as exhibitors from 15 states led out 153 head of top quality breeding stock before Judge Jack Evans, Nowata, Ok.

Judge Evans chose the very popular two-year-old show bull, L1 Challenger, for the grand champion bull honors. "Challenger" is owned by Harrell Hereford Ranch, Baker, Or.; Wilson Hereford, Thermopolis, Wyo., and K & B Hereford, Onida, S.D. SH Advancer 150 ET, the second-place two-year-old and reserve grand champion bull, won the reserve grand champion bull title for his owners, Robin Coulter, Bridgeport, N.H.; Murry J. Brown & Son, Lodgegrass, Mt., and Scott Holden Hereford, Absarokee, Mt.

In a very tough heifer competition, Lone Star Hereford Ranch, Henrietta, Tx., won out with its first-place early spring yearling and senior champion female, Lone Star Domest 88C. Judge Evans selected the top senior calf and heifer calf champion, Miss T Classic L1 565 ET, owned by Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Sedgewick, Co., and Tom Dean Hereford, Cherokee, Tx., for the reserve grand champion heifer honors.

The progeny of herd sire SC Classic ET, captured the champion get-of-sire trophy for Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co. in the group exhibit classes. Lone Star Hereford Ranch pooled its many entries to take the top prize in the best-calf-head competition.

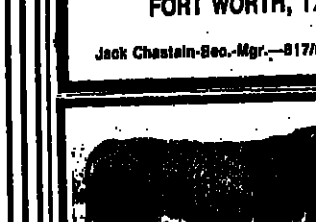

Premiums will be paid on five places in each class and match the premiums paid in the ROM show. Register of Merit points will be awarded to the sires of the winning loads.

Bulls in the truck load show will not be eligible to show at halter in the ROM Show. Bulls will be stalled in Barn 3, but shown in Barn 6 of the Fort Worth facilities.

Two caterpillars were crawling across the grass when a butterfly flew over them. They looked up, and one nudged the other and said: "You couldn't get me up in one of those things for a million dollars!"

Born's Take Both Female Champions in Colorado Hereford Show

The Colorado State Fair, Pueblo, drew over 80 head of quality Hereford breeding stock. The entries, representing several states, demonstrated the strength and quality found throughout the Hereford breed today.

Judge John Ridder, Callaway, N.H., selected RC Ripper 8024, a son of CH Domino 580, owned by Rain Cloud Ranch, Inc., Waverly, Ka., for the grand champion bull trophy. The reserve grand champion bull was T Classic L1 555 ET, the top senior yearling and senior champion bull. The reserve grand champion, exhibited by Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Sedgwick, and Tom Dean Herefords, Cherokee, Tx., was sired by 8C Classic ET.

Born Herefords, Follett, Tx., walked away with both the grand and reserve grand champion female banners. Taking the purple grand champion banner was Tex Li Adeline 2078, a growthy late spring yearling daughter of Le Grand Domino 7184, "David".

Tex Li Adeline 2220, the first-place senior calf and heifer calf champion, won the reserve grand champion female banner to add to Born's winnings.

Higgins Hereford Ranch, Nowata, OK, and Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co. combined their entries to win the get-of-sire class with the progeny of 8C Classic ET. Higgins Hereford Ranch also took the top prize for the best six-head group. A pen-of-three bull competition was held for the first time at the Colorado State Fair. Biggie Hereford Ranch swept the champion pen honors.

Fullblood Vaccination Reaches Million Mark

Austin—About one million calves have been vaccinated this fiscal year in Texas for brucellosis control, according to estimates from the Texas Animal Health Commission.

The fiscal year ending Aug. 31, and it was found that we will have about a million calves vaccinated. In fact, we even surpass the million mark by a thousand head," Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

Estimates thus far indicate 996,650 calves will have been vaccinated by Aug. 31. Whatever the final figure, this is the highest number of calves vaccinated in a year in Texas for brucellosis.

Last year, there were 877,687 calves vaccinated. That represented 85 percent of all eligible calves vaccinated. Figures for this fiscal year should be available around Sept. 15.

"We have seen a steady increase in number of calves vaccinated in the past few years. In 1980, for example, there were 557,788 calves vaccinated. Our estimate for this year will be approximately double that just three years ago," Dr. Holcombe said.

"We are encouraged to see this increase in vaccination from producers. Vaccination is a key element in the Texas brucellosis program. We expect this trend will continue as producers learn about the advantages of vaccination," Dr. Holcombe said.

These advantages: a vaccinated animal can move more freely; vaccinated cattle are worth more; vaccinated cattle are more healthy.

Uncle Dunk says after reviewin' last week's March on Washington and th' supposed hatch of a New Coalition which aims to take over th' Govmint and spend th' Nation's wealth and use th' power to run things their own sweet way, it don't figger to be too big of a probblim. Th' folks gathered there would never be able to decide who was gonna drive th' bus as they tour th' Promised Land. Dunk figgers now that Texas Sen. John Tower has decided there are better ways to make a livin' than in th' U.S. Senate, we can expect th' wildest atompede of people who want that job have been seen in many a moon. It has been reported Tower was th' least wealthy of all th' Senators, which some say adds up to his bein' th' most honest. Dunk says some of them fellows who have already indicated their interest in th' job are sure th' type that can show John how to git financially fixed if he git th' job. There'll be a new millionaire on th' block fast, faster and fastest! — Thassail, Brother!

fresh & another 22 head are springers. Most are due for winter freshening.
The Registered cows are nearly all from the Wildon Petty herd of Georgetown & several should score quite high.
